

What is file handling?

It is a process of reading and writing data to files. It allows us to store output of a program in a file, and also reads file's data and prints on console.

File handling operations :-

- Create a file
- Open a file
- Read data from a file
- Write data into a file
- Delete a file
- Copy a file